An Interesting Statement by One of

A. E. KIESLING

"If you have a muddy complexion

MERCHANTS ASK SQUARE DEAL OF STEAMSHIP LINE

Chamber of Commerce Passes Resolution Condemning
A.-H. Withdrawal

"Give us a square deal" is the substance of a resolution made to the Hawaiian-American Steamship Company in a resolution passed by the Chamber of Commerce at its meeting yesterday afternoon.

Merchants of the territory favored the line and made possible its success, at the same time cutting themselves off from all other water service from the east coast, yet the company has deserted them at the time when the service is most needed, the resolution says. Complaint is made that the steamers were withdrawn without general warning, although "certain mainland firms and certain local interests have been made aware" of it.

The resolution concludes with the declaration that the merchants of the territory feel that they are entitled to a reciprocal consideration from the steamship company.

The delegate to Congress was requested to have a bill for the establishment of a naval college in the islands introduced. Dr. H. J. Connor of Duluth spoke on the commission form of government and its operation in Duluth. A letter from Prof. T. A.
Jaggard, who is in Washington, was read, stating that the bill for the setting aside of Kilauea National Park would probably be reported on favorably by the committee having it under advisement. Repeal of three sections of the Seamen's Act was recommended to Congress by the chamber.

ARMY PUMPING PLANT FAVORED AT KAMEHAMEHA

Relative to an army pumping plant at Fort Kamehameha, the Army and Navy Register says:

"It has been proposed by the quartermaster-general of the army to increase the capacity of the pumping plant at Fort Kamehameha, in Hawaii, sufficiently to provide water for that fort and also for Fort Shafter. It appears that at the present time there is a pumping plant at each of those places, both plants pumping water into the same reservoir, and it is expected that by putting into the Fort Kamehameha station two new pumps it will be necessary to operate only this one plant for the accommodation of both forts and with a considerable saving in operating cost.

"The estimated cost of the installation of the new pumps is $6000, and it has been proposed to draw upon the appropriation for sea coast defense, and it is held that so far as the improvement is for the use and benefit of Fort Shafter the proposed expenditure would be unauthorized and prohibited by section 3678, R. S., which provides that sums appropriated shall be applied solely to the objects for which they are appropriated. It is desired by the war department that the appropriation available for the pumping station at Fort Shafter should contribute its pro rata share of the expense, and that the cost of the operation should be likewise prorated if there are separate appropriations for the operation of the respective plants."

ARMY LADIES MEET TO FORM BRANCH OF RELIEF ASSOCIATION

At a meeting called by Mrs. John P. Wisner, wife of the commanding general of the Hawaiian Department, to be held this afternoon on the roof of the Young hotel ladies of the army will take the first steps toward forming a branch of the Army Relief Association in Honolulu.

SOREHEAD HITS YOUNGER BIRDS, SAYS NORGAAARD

That the poultry disease known as sorehead attacks not only chickens, but also turkeys and pigeons, and that it is rarely, if ever, transmitted from one class to another, is the statement made by Victor A. Norgaard, territorial veterinarian in his report for January filed with the board of agriculture and forestry.

Mr. Norgaard says that most frequently the disease attacks younger birds. In one yard, he says, the turkeys alone were affected, while in a flying coop with housing pigeons only squabs were affected, although some turkeys were kept in the same enclosure.

Success has been met with the vaccine treatment in nearly every case, enough to warrant its use whenever poultry is raised, the veterinarian believes.

One of the objections to the treatment is that the vaccine loses its effectiveness quickly through putrefac-tion unless kept on ice. Carbolic acid, it has been found, may be added as a preservative without injury to the birds. Whether or not the acid weakens the vaccine has not been ascertained.

MILK MINUS CREAM STIRS UP WRATH OF MANY HOUSEHOLDERS

Undoubtedly the "last word" in complaints has reached the office of Federal Food Commissioner A. W. Hansen.

These complaints are directed against the Honolulu dairies, the writers demanding to know why no cream is visible on some of the bottles of milk which are delivered to them.
A number of local dairymen have taken up the matter with Mr. Hansen and requested him to render an expert explanation of the alleged "creamless" milk.

Commissioner Hansen explained the situation as follows:

"It frequently occurs on applying the chemical test for cream or butter fat on milk samples taken from complainants that the milk really contains the normal quantity of cream.
This is easily explained by the fact that, in the process of sterilization or preparing the milk for bottling, it was heated a few degrees too high, which renders it difficult for the cream to rise to the top of the bottle when the milk is later cooled."

Articles of incorporation were filed at Dover, Del., by the National Cross Tie Co., of America, capital $1,000,000.

A decree removing 90 per cent. of the duty on cotton goods imported into Mexico was issued by Gen.
Carranza.

"Cultivar el Tabaco es el modo que tiene la Madre Naturaleza de compensar actos menos bondadosos"

[Growing tobacco is Mother Nature's way of making up for acts less kind.]

It is time that I smoke another Van Dyck. I lift him carefully from my cigar case—he is too fine a fellow to throw loose in the coat pocket.

I light carefully. I smoke deliberately; there is quite a pause between my puffs. I am not one of your walking chimneys—I smoke Van Dyck!

Ah, that rich Havana leaf—how often I look into its cool white smoke and see again my old home!

It is the siesta of midday. The air is heavy with complete fragrance. I rest in the blue shadow of my living room, smoking slowly. The splattering tinkle of water sings in my ears from the fountain in our courtyard.

So I say to myself that Mother Nature is not after all, the jade she sometimes seems.

Does she not give us many tobaccos for the beginners in smoking? Does she not give the precious Havana tobacco in Van Dyck cigars—to those of us who are more fastidious about our cigars?

After but one Van Dyck I thank her from my heart—my little troubles have vanished up in smoke!
